DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 14-23 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kramer et al. U.S. Patent 6,757,591. Regarding to claims 14 and 25, Kramer discloses a method for determining optimal dispatch schemes for an onsite power generation arrangement having at least one available energy generation unit, comprising the steps of: determining an onsite generation requirement (col. 1, lines 61-66); configuring said arrangement for operation (col. 2, lines 8-22); determining whether said arrangement is grid-connected or grid-isolated (col. 3, lines 45-49); and periodically determining an optimal economic operating point for said arrangement (col. 4, lines 3-7).

Regarding claims 15-20, Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 wherein, upon determining said arrangement to be grid-connected, determining whether generation for said arrangement has been contracted for export (col. 3, lines 45-49). Kramer discloses the method of claim 15 wherein, upon determining said arrangement to be contracted for export, determining a reserve margin (col. 3, lines 45-49). Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 including the step of equalizing the operations hours of the at least one available unit (col. 8, lines 63-67). Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 including the step of receiving part load efficiency information from said arrangement (col. 6, lines 29-41). Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 including the step of adjusting said optimal economic operating point based on a de-rating of said at least one available unit (col. 4 and 5, lines 59-67 and 1-8). Kramer discloses the method of claim 16 wherein said reserve margin is determined based on a forecasted load and including the step of establishing an available capacity based on said reserve margin (col. 3, lines 45-49).

Regarding claims 21-23, Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 wherein said optimal economic operating point is determined based on a periodic time resolution (col. 4, lines 3-7). Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 wherein said optimal economic operating point is determined based on at least one of: fuel cost, load management options, part load efficiency curves, unit availability (col. 9, lines 8-21). Kramer discloses the method of claim 14 wherein said step of configuring said arrangement includes the steps configuring at least one site parameter taken from the group consisting of: default operational mode, load following requirement, electric rates, fuel costs, reserve margin, thermal or electric dispatch, n-1 requirement (col. 9, lines 8-21); and configuring at least one unit parameter taken from the group consisting of: optimal electric capacity value, maintenance cost, maintenance interval, overhaul cost, overhaul interval, startup cost, shutdown cost (col. 6, lines 29-41).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-13 and 24 are allowed.
